Social Studies

Early Explorers...taking perspectives

A Note From Ms. Wack

As the grading term ends, if you have any pre-conference concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me. Students have been bringing their own devices to help guide research and inquiry projects, and it has been great so far. I am working to create student-centered activities that encourage experiencing learning on individual levels. These projects tend to run more smoothly if there is another adult in the room to help in guide the students. If you would like to volunteer to come in during one of these projects please e-mail me with a time that could work.

Wish List

- white board markers
- Ticonderoga pencils
- tissues
